

Summary of Key Changes for AFDP 3-03, Counterland Operations:

- Introduced Land Warfighter Perspective section as a summary of US Army and Marine Corps purposes, core competencies and force structures
 - Incorporated land warfare concepts from Army Doctrine Publication (ADP) 1, The Army; and Marine Corps Doctrine Publication 1-0, Marine Corps Operations
- Added section describing new TACP capabilities: Agile Control and Integration Team (ACIT) and the Integrated Sensing and Effects Team (ISET)
- Provided a summary of digitally aided close air support capabilities and planning considerations
- Eliminated discussion of close air support tactical execution details, Joint Fires Observer, and Special Tactics Team which merely restated what is already fully described in Joint Publication 3-09.3, Close Air Support
- Eliminated tactical execution details related to command and control conflicts for unmanned aerial systems during ISR and close air support taskings
- Removed redundant text explaining close air support mission types and the roles of a FAC(A) and TAC(A)
- Clarified doctrine related to the execution of air interdiction operations within a kill box short of the fire support coordination line (FSCL)
- Adjusted 'tone' and updated terminology to reflect the current DoD dictionary
- Added/updated hyperlinks to appropriate primary source documents as required
- Added blue box discussions on "Shifting Air-land Integration Paradigms: Lessons Learned from the Russo-Ukraine Conflict", "Air Support Operations Group and Air Support Operations Squadron", "Clarifying Dynamic Targeting Terminology", and "Battlefield Coordination Line"
